Government

The Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet (PM&C)

The Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet (PM&C) is the key Australian Government department that supports Indigenous Australians through a number of programs and services as well as providing grants and funding to support Indigenous organisations and individuals. PM&C's land and native title programs and resources include the Native Title Program that supports Indigenous native title claimants or holders through the funding of a network of Native Title Representative Bodies (NTRBs) or other Native Title Service Providers (NTSPs). PM&C also provides a funding in the Indigenous Advancement Strategy. PM&C's website provides information on proposed amendments to legislation or regulations and reviews of the native title system.

Attorney-General's Department—Native Title Unit

The Attorney General's Department (AGD) Native Title Unit assists in the administering of the Native Title Act 1993 (Cth). AGD informs government policy on native title and provides access to information on native title reforms, alternative state and territory native title regimes, and the future acts regime.

Managed by the Australian Institute of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies \(AIATSIS\) and produced with the funding support of the Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet.

Geospatial data has been provided by the National Native Title Tribunal.
